Some things do not change with new editions, in particular the traces left by the ones who were, and remain, for me important references. As always, I am deeply grateful to Ruzena Bajcsy and Yves Meyer.

I spent the last few years with three brilliant and kind colleagues—Christophe Bernard, Jérôme Kalifa, and Erwan Le Pennec—in a pressure cooker called a “start-up.” Pressure means stress, despite very good moments. The resulting sauce was a blend of what all of us could provide, which brought new flavors to our personalities. I am thankful to them for the ones I got, some of which I am still discovering.

This new edition is the result of a collaboration with Gabriel Peyré, who made these changes not only possible, but also very interesting to do. I thank him for his remarkable work and help.
